LKDFN is concerned that their respective decisions were made without access and nalanced information about the risks of Uranium exploration, extraction and processing. Both the NTI Uranium Policy and the Background Paper on the NTI Uranium omit important information on Uranium mining, the nuclear industry, and the entire nuclear fuel chain including health and ecosystem impacts.

LKDFN believes that the potential adverse impacts of the Kiggavik & Sessions projects are so unacceptable that it should be abandoned . This requirement includes the well-being of members of the LKDFN who may be effected by the project. It is quite clear that caribou is a migratory species, and other users outside of Nunavut territory could be adversery affected by the Kiggavik and Sessions project.
