Attention: Phyllis Beaulieu

We are in the process of discharging water at our Landfarm. There seems to be confusion about which standard we are required to meet when discharging water. We thought if test results met the Canadian Drinking Water Standard we could discharge the water. The Regulators at INAC do not have anything in writing at this time and hence are requesting the highest standards, CCME Fresh Water Aquatic, prior to authorizing our request to discharge.
Our Landfarm is located in an Industrial area adjacent to the old metal dump. Notwithstanding, we should not let this fact alter the standards we discharge water.
We are hereby requesting your assistance to clarify this matter.
Thanking you in advance for your help.
