Mr. Owen,

I tried calling you back earlier today, I left a message at 250-339-9934.

You will need to provide me with "before" and "after" photos to show that what you put on site was removed as you stated.

If the wood tent floors and 11 drums are not yours, then who's are they?

When do you plan on removing the rest of the lumber from the Esker Site?

I plan on being in the area around July 14th and will be checking the sites for compliance again if required.

Please provide me with the above information as soon as possible, by next week would be great, to allow me to finalize my Inspection Plans for this season.

Koana,
Baba

Dear Ms. Paul

Thank you for your email and accompanying correspondence. I have left an voice message with Baba Pederson to discuss his letter of October 10, 2012. In summary my comments are:

1. I will forward the proof of name change to your attention.
2. The wood tent floors and 11 drums of fuel at the Camp Site do not belong to Troy Energy Corp. I arranged for Discovery Mining Services to clean up the camp location and they completed that work in October, 2011. The company has not been on the site since that time however I understand that in the last two years some exploration work may have been conducted in the area by another company . The plywood that the fuel sits on appears very new and this may be from the other company.
3. One-half of the lumber has now been removed from the Esker site and we are looking at alternatives for removing the remainder. If Mr. Pederson could confirm when his next site visit will be conducted I will pass this information on to Discovery Mining Services who are handling this removal.

Regards

Jim Owen

Mr. Owen,

As the Water Resource Officer for Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development Canada in the Kitikmeot Region, Nunavut, I am reviewing outstanding files in my region. The licence 2BE-BOT0507 and associated Land Use Permit N2004C0032 have outstanding non-compliance issues to be addressed. Please find attached a letter in this regard, and a copy of the 2012 inspection reports from Mr. Baba Pedersen of my department.

Please acknowledge receipt of this notice.

Regards,

Eva Paul
