CIRNAC, NWB and KIA will not split the permits and licences (we tried that first). Solstice will be issued their own permits and licences and Dunnedin will amend the current ones. But if neither company has to go through NPC and NIRB that's great, it will save a lot of time and work.
I will just submit our correspondence to CIRNAC, NWB and KIA and I am sure it will be sufficient.
Thanks!
Tara

I would advise coordinating the file splits with Dunedin

Hi Peter, I do not have access to Dunedin Ventures Inc. NPC files. I have only been commissioned by Solstice to do their permitting. Dunnedin will be submitting their own project amendments to remove the overlapping permits etc.
Did you want me to give you a call? Maybe might make it easier to discuss.
Thanks again.

Then please close this file, open the appropriate other file relating to the work to be undertaken by this new company, and specify and differences in the project.

Great! I do need to submit something formally in writing to CIRNAC, NWB and the KIA as it is stated right in the applications. Can you please send me a formal response. Sorry I don't feel comfortable submitting you initial response as it will be going on their public registries ☹
Thanks again.

I would withdraw your application. Same permit different company should not be a problem with anyone.

Thanks.

Hi Peter,
My apologies, we were under the impression that because Solstice is a new company that has never held a permit or licence they would be required to be screened by NPC and NIRB. Technically all the projects that I have submitted in the past were screened before as numerous other companies have worked on the same area prior to the current company. Is this one not required because Solstice is a spin out company of Dunnedin?
Do you need me to respond formally on the NPC messages board or is our communication sufficient.
Thanks for the clarification.
Tara

You've done enough of these to know to have included this information on the original application.

If all the activities are already screened, I would just proceed. IF NWB or INAC or KivIA wants a conformity, we'll deal with it then. It's the same project under a different name.

Hi Peter,
Solstice is actually a spin out company of Dunedin Ventures Inc. and they are pretty much doing the exact same work that was previously reviewed and approved for Dunnedin's Kahuna Diamond Project permits/licences (NPC file numbers 148166, 148367 and 148649; NIRB file number 15EN028; CIRNAC Land Use Permit N2015C0019, NWB water licence 2BE-KDP1722 and Kivalliq Inuit Association Land Use Licences KVL315B01 and KVRW16F01). The only real difference is the Solstice is exploring for Gold and Dunnedin is exploring for Diamonds.
How do you think we should proceed? Ie. Did you want me to state all this in the NPC application messages?
Thanks for your help as always!

Tara
