Hi Stanley,
We already dealt with that issue long before. We changed the location of the proposed camp. I am surprised that you were not informed by Northern Affair.

In fact , based on that, we were already given the LAND USED PERMIT by INAC dated July 13th., 2011 ( Permit No. N2011C0004).

We are hard pressed to do any planning unless we get all the permitting required.

Anyway, if ever we get all required permitting – we have to do the first thing—see the lay of the ground and decide how we will proceed with exploration. As we try to explain when we first started ( as Guyana Precious Metal) – we inherited this project from the former operator (i.e., Coronation Minerals Inc).

Unfortunately, none of the former operator's personnel, familiar with the project, are with us anymore. We are on the "picking up the pieces" process ..

Cheers,
Alexander

BTW-it was unfortunate that I kept on missing you when I tried to see you in the PDAC.
