Hi Christopher, the company requested in 2012 that we put a hold on the file until this year. There was no change to any of the submitted documents other than a request to now move forward with the application and they provided new dates as per the attached.
Regards,

Hi Phyllis - I note your comments below regarding receipt of the original application in 2012. Did they fill in a new application or provide any correspondence outlining the new dates they wish to conduct their activities? I note on the NWB application I have that it references Jul – Aug 2012. I want to make sure we have the right dates for 2013 so as I capture the correct questions on our questionnaire…as soon as I hear back ill continue processing. cheers, Christopher

Subject: 130328 3BC-YIF---- Wildfall Films - Request NPC and NIRB Screening-OMLE

In May 2012 the Nunavut Water Board ("NWB") received an application from Windfall Films for a Type B water licence. This project was placed on hold by the applicant until 2013. We have now received notification to commence processing this file. From the information received to date this project is in an area which requires conformity to an approved land use plan. Pursuant to Article 11 of the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement (NLCA), the proposal must be sent to the Nunavut Planning Commission (NPC) for a conformity determination. By copy of this email to NPC the NWB is requesting a conformity determination. Once a determination is made the NPC will forward the information and recommendation to the Nunavut Impact Review Board (NIRB) to carry out a screening of the project proposal in accordance with Article 12 of the NLCA. Please forward all correspondence relating to this file to the NWB.
