Bhabesh,
I was on the phone for the better part of the day (yesterday) with the NWB office (Staff meeting and training) and unable to take other calls. I'm sure Phyllis will take care of the recent letter and note the withdrawal of the previous letter. I'm currently working on other items and have not had the time to review the file to determine additional supporting documents required. I would suggest you have a look at the YRB file to date to determine if all information requests have been satisfied and if the file is complete to move forward. As a start, you might consider providing an update to Tom Livingston's email response of October 8, 2009, in which there were a number of items deferred until 2010. What has taken place 2010, 11 and 12? Have all the requirements of the previous licence been reviewed, information provided (2003-2008)?

Also, the Spill contingency plan and o&m plan submitted back in 2009 are very preliminary and are missing considerable amount of required information. (ie SCP does not include a spill report form for reference, or reference anywhere in the plan as to the location of spill kits and their contents, etc.). The previous licence referred to a QA/QC plan being provided by the nwb, these plans are now a requirement of the licensee and are to be approved by an analyst, as most other licences. To be proactive, a plan should be developed for submission for the monitoring aspect of the current licence. This is an older licence, 2003, so there are a lot of updated conditions etc., that will likely take place. One to consider is an Abandonment and Restoration Plan for the facilities (preliminary or interim, but still a plan may need to be submitted).

If you have any further questions, please give me a call.

Regards,
Dave

Hi David,
I called two times but could not reach you. However, I hope you have received our letter for name change. I am now waiting to know from you what kind of supporting documents you are looking for.

Thanks.

Bhabesh
