Ah...we were just discussing files pertaining to Dene involvement. This file is on my desk under a homestake heading and a different file name and no where do we have a Barrick Gold Application.

Anyway, basing this on the previous Homestake proposal, file number NWB1CUL9902. The Barrick Gold Inc. application # 1BR CUL0201 will not require an NPC conformity determination against the KRLUP.

Any questions, concerns please do not hesitate.

All I have on file here is the attached. Possibly the reason why you can't find it in your system is because correspondence is log of telephone conversations and emails. Also there may be a transboundary issue? I've also attached the previous license application which may help.
