Good Morning Jackie,

I'm writing to introduce myself as the NWB Technical Advisor assigned to your file. Thank you for your email.

As you know the NWB went out for comments, and all expected comments came in on or before June 12, 2017. The comments from INAC included some recommendations that the NWB would like you to respond to. Please see the attached letter and kindly provide a response to items 1 and 2.

I'm in the process of completing the Final Technical Review, once I receive your submission I'll be able to respond back with an expected timeline till license issuance.

Please note that this correspondence and all correspondences on this file will be placed on our FTP site, in order to facilitate the tracking of this file by all interested stakeholders.

Good Afternoon.

The public tender for the project closed last week. It is hoped that the contract can be awarded the first week of July and that the project will begin shortly after that. However, it is my understanding that we cannot award the contract until we've received NWB approval.

Therefore, can you please provide an update on the status of Transport Canada's application?

Sincerely,

Jackie Barker
