Hello,

Thank you for your patience, I will respond below:

- 1) TC does not intend to discontinue monitoring without written approval from the NWB. The plans were written to align with our financial projections and our program cannot commit that far into the future. Monitoring will be an iterative process as results are available.
- 2) TC will ensure the next version identifies CIRNAC and Field Operations as the responsible authority related to any release of hazardous materials or spills, and that this information is retained on site by the consultant during field work this upcoming summer.

Thanks,

Holly
