Hi Phyllis and Damien,

I have received direction from headquarters on the appropriate use of DIAND and AANDC for water licence correspondence:

"The Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development (DIAND) and Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development should be used in all legal documents. AANDC should be used in correspondence."

I hope this clarifies the use of the appropriate name. We are AANDC for all correspondence with the exception that in legal documents we are DIAND.

Murray
