6. Low-Level Air Flights: Appendix C, s3: Will the applicant avoid all low-level flights?

☐ Yes☒ No

Application No_ NWB2JAC/ Twin Mining Corporation

I If not, explain why such flights are or may be absolutely necessary.

Low level airborne magnetic surveying may be carried out over portions of Twin Mining's claims as magnetic surveying has proven to be the only means of pinpointing the location of potentially diamond-bearing kimberlite.

II. If such flights are or may be absolutely necessary, will they avoid disturbance to people and wildlife? Yes, they will be entirely over areas that are uninhabited by either people or wildlife. These areas are inland from the coast on the barren plateau of the Brodeur Peninsula of Baffin Island

III. If not, explain why it is not possible to avoid such disturbance.

No animals, birds or other wildlife nor people will be disturbed in any way.

9. Polar Bear Denning Areas and Walrus Haul-outs: s3.3.1.8: Will the applicant keep its activities away from any polar bear denning area or walrus haul-out?

- ii. If no, explain why.

Because diamond exploration involves the application of scientific research on known diamond occurrences elsewhere in the world, but Twin Mining's exploration is not scientific or academic research in itself. Input from the results of diamond exploration and scientific research elsewhere is not available through the Nunavut Research Institute.
