Wonderful. Thank you. I trust you will be in touch after your inspection.
I will start looking at the A & R and how to close things out in regards to the NWB and KIA and be in touch if I have questions. I've already send an email off to Phyllis to get the ball rolling.

Hi Sherry,

Yes, pending a final inspection of the site, you are in compliance with respect to the cleanup at this time.

Right now, all I want to confirm and know, is that we are in compliance in regards to the cleanup following your inspection.
The A & R I will handle under a separate matter.

Hi Sherry,

In terms of the compliance report and photos, I'm good: it meets the requirements identified. In terms of a final clean-up or a&r report though, they are not the same report (though one can refer to the other to save you some time). The

A&R reporting needs to be more detailed, as per previous emails and should specifically refer to the applicable licence conditions and your A&R Plan.

Please give me a call if you want to discuss further, I would be happy to answer your questions.

Thanks for letting me know, I appreciate that. What do you anticipate your turnaround time to be?

Subject: 2BE-BLU Compliance reporting information

Hi Sherry,

As per our conversation yesterday, you had requested some clarification as to the content of a compliance report once your clean-up has been conducted. Basically, I require confirmation that the issues identified in the inspection report have been dealt with, and how.

A compliance report shows the proof of compliance once your commitments (under the licence and compliance plan) are finalized. In your case, as you are planning a final removal and restoration of the camp site, you can combine this report with your report on the final site clean-up. I would recommend a separate report or letter when "administrative" issues have been addressed.

Please note, that your compliance commitments under the water license tie in with the Abandonment and Restoration plan submitted to (and approved by) the NWB. The A&R plan describes your commitments regarding the final cleanup - and includes mention of the details to be documented in the final report.

This report includes such items as:

-photographs (before and after) and gps coordinates (NAD 83) of camp, fresh water sources utilized, fuel caches and drill sites (where applicable)

-specifics on the type and quantity of waste removed from site; confirmation of backhaul to an authorized waste disposal facility

-photos of drill sites (confirms final condition)

The Annual Report submitted in 2009 (by RT Chataway) is a good example -the final report would summarize past activities and demonstrate these sites are clean (via photos). Photos were lacking with the 2009 Annual Report (as per above note).

Please let me know if you have any questions in regards to the above.

best regards,

Melissa
