We're proud to announce that Sabina's Final Back River Project Environmental Impact Statement (FEIS) received a positive conformity review from the Nunavut Impact Review Board (NIRB) yesterday, December 8, 2015. With this decision, the FEIS will enter the final technical review period, followed by public hearings. Read our news release for more information.

"The FEIS demonstrates how the Project will bring responsible sustainable development to the region, including training, jobs, creation of business opportunities as well as associated royalty payments," says Bruce McLeod, President & CEO.

The NIRB is the official registry for the 10-volume FEIS. The documents are also available on the Back River Project website.
