

- Legend:
- GTC Status: Cable irreparably damaged
  - GTC Status: Bead damaged or data missing
  - Design Thermal Block

Notes:

- Bead numbers increase from downstream to upstream (horizontal) and top to bottom (vertical)
- (A) Data logger was disconnected from January 1, 2018 to March 3, 2018 for recalibration

|                                                                                       |                                                                                       |                                                                                                        |                 |                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|----------------|
|  |  | 2018 Annual Geotechnical Inspection                                                                    |                 |                |
|                                                                                       |                                                                                       | Station 0+85 Horizontal Ground Temperature Cable Temperature Vs. Time |                 |                |
| Job No: 1CT022.028Filename: AppB_1CT022.028_ND_GTC                                | DORIS TIA                                                                             | Date:Jan. 2019                                                                                     | Approved:PL | Figure:B.7 |

