Hi Richard:

I was hoping that the extension was only for the KivIA and the other intervenors would be providing their comments as per the original schedule on March 15th.

This would ensure we will submit our responses on March 22nd. We have a team going into quarantine on March 15th and we found the extension to KivIA was not ideal but doable but the other intervenors would still provide their responses on March 15th to allow us the 2 additional days to respond to the comments from other intervenors and we start working on the KivIA responses on March 17th. We do not want any delays on the existing schedule that has been circulated for some time now to all parties.

Can the dates be readjusted that all other intervenors respond by March 15th and KivIA on March 17th?

Thanks, Jamie
