Dear David and Sean.

Thank you for your submission of the draft agenda for the December 9, 2016, teleconference.

Our 3 participants will be:

- Stephen Williamson Bathory – QIA;

- Jamie VanGulck – ARKTIS; and
- Bart Warren – ARKTIS.

Additionally, QIA has worked with Baffinland since the December 2, 2016 submission to better understand the differences between our two Parties' estimates. As a result QIA has issued an addendum to our 2017 Security Estimate Report, which includes revised Direct, Indirect and Total costs. This document was filed directly with both Baffinland and the NWB with copy to INAC. QIA is able to speak to this additional filing as a component of our presentation during the ASR teleconference call.

QIA has no suggested changes to the current agenda, as is, without any comments or recommendations at this time

We look forward to receiving the final version of the agenda and participating in the call.

Regards,

Stephen Williamson Bathory,

Director or Major Projects

Regards,

Just one more thing—the BIMC Workplan isn't loading properly from the registry—I have been able to download the document in its entirety but when I try to scroll through past the first page I keep getting the following message and a blank page:

"There was an error processing a page. There was a problem reading this document (109)."

So I was finally able to open it via Google Chrome but there were some weird characters sprinkled throughout the document and when I saved the document and tried to reopen it off-line from the file I got the same error message.

I tried printing it to Adobe from Google Chrome and the pages after the first one were blank.

Not sure whether it's SJ's system or yours, but thought I should let you know in case.

In an event, I was able to review the doc via Google, but the tables were a bit jumbled so I'm not sure I'm quite getting it. Can you e-mail me a copy of the document for my file?

Thanks buckets.

Greetings all,

True confession—I am not yet up to speed on this year's ASR submissions, but am planning to spend the remainder of the morning to get that done, but wanted to check in as to when/if you might be available to discuss the teleconference, likely timing of decision drafting and timing of getting the Mary River Panel together to review an ASR decision.

Thanks,

T.

Dear Karén,

Thanks, that's the one, and the problem must be in the document itself, not the NWB registry because I get the same error message when I try to open this document. And just to be clear, 109 is part of the error message, not the number of pages.

Good morning,

Karen, do you still have the original submission from BIMC in your emails? From November 4th. Seems it might have been an issue with the uploading, as the file that came with the email has opened just fine, and i don't think Sean mentioned of any issues with it. Try uploading again? I've attached to this email, for your reference, check to see if it is working.

Regards,
Dave
