Hello Richard,

Thanks for offering another opportunity to comment on this.

QIA is satisfied with the clarifications provided with respect to construction drawings.

A review of Bafinland's Standard Specification for fill placement that was provided in their response indicates that quality control and inspections will be determined between the Employer and contractor as part of the tender process (Section 1.5 of the Specifications) which QIA is not involved in. Given that the modification has already been approved by the NWB, QIA is looking forward to reviewing as-built documentation to evaluate the adequacy of the QA/QC program.

Thanks, Fai
