Subject: Preliminary Water Quality and Fish Habitat Investigation
Date: December 18, 1996

I received this report from WMC International Limited. I read the report and found it interesting to note that four species of fish were identified, grayling, cisco, burbot and sculpin. I thought that sculpins were only found in salt water.

Although this, is just a preliminary report. In the future, I would recommend that the company utilizes traditional knowledge, when collecting data and information on fish and wildlife in the area.

Please send the report back to this office. Donechu
