Good morning, Paul. If it was just a matter of a typo we could send out an errata and make the correction that way. However, according to your 2003 summary report you request specific camp location as well as the change from Neergaard Lake to Erichsen Lake as your water source. This constitutes an amendment to the current license. My suggestion is that you apply now for your renewal, rather than waiting until June which is only a few months away. This will save both of us some paperwork and cover all changes necessary. I await your response.

Hi Phyllis

Sorry for the delay in replying. I was out visiting some of the communities where we will be working from and was out of contact for a week or so.

My initial note to you was regarding our water usage summary as outlined in Part B general conditions. This you needed by March 31st.

One of my requests was that on the permit our camp locality is stated as South of Grifford Fiord, Baffin Region, Nunavut, general camp latitude 70 24' W; longitude 80 39' W. NTS Map 47E 1:250,000.

I see there was a typo with the latitude having the suffix W instead of N. The other request was giving the exact camp locality of Latitude 70 37' 29.5" North and 80 4' 16.5" west.

I was hoping that these corrections could be made and the same licence re-issued, but was informed that I would have to go through the whole re-application process just to correct a typo. As our licence is still valid until September 1st 2004 (the end of our field season) I thought I would do the re-application next year.

I see from your note you refer to an amendment. This is new to me, I thought I had to go through the whole process of submitting the applications forms, maps and supporting documents, translations, getting an ad placed etc.

I can't recall to whom I spoke on the phone but mentioned that I would not go through this process as the typo was small and not worth the effort to correct. We will be reapplying for a new licence next year and the changes can be reflected in the new permit then.

Quite a long story just for a small change.

Regards

Paul Hundt

As a follow-up to my email of February 23, 2004, please advise when you will be forwarding an amendment to your current license.
