Regarding the 3 new applications received in this office on May 11, 2005, we are unable to send these out for review until Stornaway is able to specify coordinates in lats and longs. This is particularly important for water source and waste disposal. We cannot accept the map numbers given as it's too broad and encompasses too large an area. Any questions please contact the technical advisor assigned to these files. His name is Joe Murdock, phone 867-360-6338 and email coordinator@nwb.nunavut.ca

Re: Application and exploration coordinates

Advised Nicole that in order to deem the impact of a waste deposit (borehole drilling and base camp use), and the extraction of water, a more refined project area was required. Currently the three applications submitted apply for use in whole Nunvut Regions (i.e. The entire Baffin Island). This will not enable a fair technical assessment. Nicole to contact exploration team for itinerary to determine possible camping stakes and possible areas where boreholes are to be drilled. Advised Nicole that I will out of the office until Monday June 6th 2005.

Good Morning;

The NWB have received an application for water license on May 11, 2005 for the Central Nunavut Area. The file is in preliminary technical review at this time. We ask that the Nunavut Water Board be given the specific Lats and longs before this can go out for distribution for review and comments.

If you need more information, don't hesitate to contact the water board office.
