Good morning Phyllis and Sean,

I have attached the translated executive summary as per your request. We intended to exclude drilling within thirty (30) metres of the ordinary high water mark of water bodies within the Kiggavik lease. Although drilling within 30 m of the ordinary high water mark at the End Grid Lake area may continue (as approved in amendment #3) the Project Geologist has determined that this activity is not necessary at this time in other areas.

Best regards,

Kim Jackson

Dear Kim:

The Nunavut Water Board (NWB or Board) has conducted a preliminary technical review of your amendment application and supporting information dated November 10, 2011. The review has determined that your application is acceptable for public distribution. The Board, however, look forward to receiving the updated management plans indetified in the cover letter accompanying the amendment application.

Prior to distributing your application for a 30-day public review and/or comment period, the Board request that confirmation be provided on whether the amendment application unintentionally excluded drilling within thirty (30) metres of the ordinary high water mark of water bodies situated within the extents of the Kiggavik lease.

Regards,

Sean Joseph
