Good afternoon Alice;

The application was deemed complete and ready for 30 day distribution to the public and regulatory parties as the applicant 'NWB met staff requirements. This does not approve the application; it only approves the distribution of the application for the 30 day public commenting period. Once the 30 day distribution period has passed all comments submitted will be reviewed. The application is then brought to the Board for decision.

I've highlighted the Username: public, Password: registry for your convenience.

Hello Mr. Dwyer,

How can the NWB solicit public comment after it has already made a determination about s.48 of the Act?

What exactly will you do with these comments now that you have already assured them you will approve the application? How does this include HTOs in your process?

I also don't see any explanation why the application meets the requirements.

The FTP link you have provided with background documents is not actually accessible to the public as it is password protected.

Good afternoon;

The initial distribution had unintentionally omitted parties who may have an interest in submitting comments on this amendment application. The deadline for comment submission is now May 6, 2009 5:00 pm Mountain Standard Time.
