

Windfall Films is an independent company based in the UK. We are making a series of films for US broadcaster PBS.

This is a three part series inspired by, the Chicago based, Professor Neil Shubin's book; 'Your Inner Fish'.

The book charts the evolutionary history of our body, particularly looking at human anatomy, which has been effected dramatically by our fish ancestry.

The series has broadened this concept and the three films take this concept and follow it all the way to present day. The three episodes are: 'Your Inner Fish', 'Your Inner Lizard' and 'Your Inner Monkey'. Neil Shubin narrates his journey along this time-line finding transitional fossils, vestigial anatomies and genetic similarities to explain how the human body has evolved into the form it takes today.

In the arctic we are planning to revisit the fossil site where the Tiktaalik fossil was found.
