Hi Paul

We had a internal discussion regarding the repairs to the Cape Dorset Lagoon Berm, and concluded that this work (building out the berm is to fix the washout and increase the stability by reducing the slop) can be considered "regular maintenance work" and would not require a short review/approval.

As such, by copy of this email the NWB acknowledges that the mentioned activities, including:

- installation of a new culvert to replace the culvert at the location of the washout,
- · import and compaction of materials around the culvert, and
- adjusting the berm slope from an approximate 1.5/1 slope to a new 2/1 slope, are consistent with the existing terms and conditions of the Licence, do not require any amendments to the Licence conditions, and do not require formal approval by the NWB. With this said, it is the NWB's expectation that the activities described will not result to any change of water use or waste disposal activities as per licence requirements, and that no engineering designs are required. The GN should ensure that adequate professional advise and practices are used during these works, as the NWB's review of these activities is not intended or offered as any representation regarding the suitability of the plans nor third party verification of the design, construction, planning or engineering presented in the document. The Licensee is reminded that all relevant monitoring should be conducted and to ensure that the site is stable once activities are completed, and that a Construction Summary Report should be provided to the NWB as per Licence terms and conditions. Please also include a summary of this work within the annual report.

Should you have any questions or require any clarification with respect to the above, please let me know by email or phone (867) 360-6338 (Ext. 32).

Regards, Derek
