Hi Bhabesh,

If you are applying for an amendment to the Licence, yes you have to submit the full application package to the NWB. NPC/NIRB do their own process, the NWB does its own regular licensing process.

I hope this helps,

Subject: 3BM-RES1520, 2016 amendment application

Good Morning,

On March 14, 2016 the NWB received an NPC Conformity Determination for the amendment of 3BM-RES1520.

Please note that the attached NPC conformity letter states that this file is exempt from screening by the Nunavut Impact Review Board (NIRB) and that the file is now forwarded to the NWB for processing; However, the NWB has not received the water licence amendment application package. Can you confirm when this submission can be expected? When the NWB receives your submission we will be able to proceed.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have further questions. Thank you,

Cynthia

Karen

I applied only to NPC , not NIRB. And received a response from NPC only. Question is if we need to apply to NIRB or now directly apply the amendment application to NWB. Please clarify.

Thanks
