B & J FLYFISHING ADVENTURES, EXECUTIVE SUMMARY.

B & J Flyfishing Adventures is owned and operated by Bill and Jessie Lyall of Cambridge Bay, Nunavut.

Owners/operators are Inuit (Eskimos) both born in the Kitikmeot region.

The fly fishing lodge is located at the Ekaluk river approximately forty (40) miles west of Cambridge Bay.

Geographic location; N69.24,30 W106.13,05.

It is run similar to a Family camp, but with all required proper licensing and insurance in place.

Liability insurance amount; one million (1,000,000) dollars.

The camp consists of five living quarters and cook building.

We normally use less than one hundred (100) gallons of water per day for camp use.

The facilities are powered (at night) by one 4,800W portable electric generator, servicing nine outlets.

(100W light bulbs plus outlets for charging video batteries and radios).

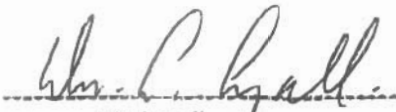

All camp garbage is ferried back to Cambridge Bay and transferred to the land fill site there.

Human waste is buried after having been treated with lime and water.

I like to think our camp is the best kept camp in the north, providing world class fly fishing for our guests.

The statement;
WORLD CLASS CAMP & DITTO FISHING
is frequently voiced by our guests.
