Hi Valerie,

I hope you are well!

As the comment period has concluded as of yesterday, I just wanted to follow up on our application for a Type B water license.

I also wanted to inform you of a possible change. An alternative design for the Iqaluit Port Development Project is currently being evaluated, which would extend the northern study area portion approximately 500 meters in the southwest direction.

The extended area in the proposed small craft harbour is the only change. The geotechnical and environmental baseline studies remain unchanged with respect to type, personnel, schedule, land uses and licensing, and materials and waste.

We have already engaged NPC, and they have determined this change to be "not a significant modification of the project" per their letter dated September 16th, and that no further NIRB screening is necessary.

Upon your review, please advise if you recommend making an amendment to the existing application, or applying for a new license, as well as the approval schedule implications of both options.

Attached for your reference and review are the following:

- NPC Letter dated September 16th, 2016
- Original Study Area Map (previously submitted)
- Study Area Map showing the extended area
- Combination map with extended study area overlaying original study area

Please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions or need additional information.

Thanks,

Marie
