Hello. I will check through the archives but if the project applied for was a multi-year project and it was declared to conform, NPC will not need to re-assess.

Our project is a continuation of last year's, which was evaluated by the NPC (it did not require further screening) and conformed. We had put forward a multi-year project at the time, but only get the research license for one year. Anyway, NRI has now provided us with a research license for 2018 - I hope this is sufficient to initiate our water license, but if not, please let me know. Ashley

NPC Clarification,

Please be advised that under the Nunavut Land Claims Agreement (NLCA), Article 11, Section 11.5.9 and s. 76 (1) of Nunavut Planning and Project Assessment Act (NuPPAA), the proponent of a project governed by NuPPAA is also required to submit a project proposal document (which may include the water licence application) directly to the Nunavut Planning Commission (NPC or Commission) for the NPC's determination regarding the applicable land use planning requirements and/or directions regarding whether the project is subject to screening by the Nunavut Impact Review Board. In particular, please note that as established under Articles 11, 12 and 13 of the NLCA, NuPPAA and Part 3 of the Nunavut Waters and Nunavut Surface Rights Tribunal Act, until the project has completed the applicable land use planning and assessment process required by the NPC and the NIRB, the NWB cannot issue a water licence.

Consequently, if you have not already done so, please consult with the NPC regarding the applicable land use planning and assessment requirements for the project and submit the required documentation to the NPC directly.

While the NWB awaits the NPC's determination and/or directions indicating that the project may proceed to the licensing stage, the NWB may commence an administrative check for completeness and a preliminary internal technical review. If, during this time, the NWB identifies deficiencies in your application, you may be notified of any additional information requirements. It should be noted, however, that the NWB's official processing of the application will commence following issuance and receipt of the relevant decision(s) from the NPC and/or NIRB.

Please call the undersigned at (867) 360-6338 or email to licensing@nwb-oen.ca if you have any questions.

yes, we also sent it in to NRI today, so I guess we were a bit premature with the NWB application since it first needs NPC conformity. I'll touch base once we hear back about the research license. Thanks Ashley

Thank you for the 2017 Summary and Annual Report and New Application for Approval Without a Licence for 8WLC-BGI1819. Can you please confirm if you forwarded your application to Nunavut Planning Commission for a NPC Conformity. The Nunavut Water Board cannot start the process unless we receive the NPC Conformity.
