To whom it may concern:

I am applying to renew permission for use of water without a license, for the Stanford University project "The beginning of an Era: characterizing the depositional environments of Earth's earliest eukaryotes". This is a continuation of a project from last year (refer to 8WLC-BOES1617). Our research is academic in nature, and will have little to no environmental impact.

For the application for use of water without a license, please refer to the following files:
Application for water use without a license (Application – The Beginning of an Era.pdf)
English non-technical summary (non-technical summary English.pdf)
Inuktitut non-technical summary (non-technical summary Inuktitut.pdf)

With best regards,
