7. CLASSIFICATION OF UNDERTAKING - Indicate the classification of undertaking by checking one of the following boxes.
<input type="checkbox"/> Industrial <input type="checkbox"/> Mining <input type="checkbox"/> Conservation <input type="checkbox"/> Municipal	<input type="checkbox"/> Agricultural <input type="checkbox"/> Recreational <input type="checkbox"/> Power <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Other: (describe)

See Appendix C of the Guide for descriptions of classifications of undertakings.
8. DESCRIPTION OF UNDERTAKING AND EQUIPMENT USED – Provide a brief description of the undertaking including a description of any equipment that will be used in using water or depositing waste.
The work undertaken will be palaeontological field work, which will involve hiking over rocky areas and sampling bedrock for scientific research. This will involve a team of five people living in a basic remote camp set-up. The team will be mobilized through the use of either helicopter or Twin Otter aircraft. The work is intended to take place on the eastern side of Cornwallis Island between Advance Bluff at the most norther point and Depot Point at our most southern extent. We will initially be camped at a location along an unnamed river flowing into the southwest side of Read Bay. After two weeks, we expect to move camp (by air lift: either helicopter or Twin Otter) to a location along the left bank of Snowblind Creek. Activities in camp will involve cooking and cleaning up after food preparation and eating; the camp accommodation will consist of sleeping in tents. A central base camp shelter tent will be set up for cooking, eating, and cleaning up. No permanent structures will be installed, and the camp will be completely taken down and all traces removed at the conclusion of work.
Water will be exclusively used for drinking, cooking, washing up in camp, and personal hygiene.

Water will be collected using bottles or bladder bags each day.

No heavy equipment will be used. We will have camp stoves fueled by propane and naphthalene (white gas). Human waste will be disposed of by digging pit toilets away from water sources and will be buried after use. Grey water and waste water will be disposed of using buckets by dispersing it away from water sources (i.e. onto rocks, unvegetated areas).
