RE: Water Licence for McGill University Camp at Expedition Fiord

Dear Mr. Dwyer

I am following up on your email concerning the competition of the Nunavut Water Board Licence application for the McGill Arctic Research Station (MARS) at Expedition Fiord, Axel Heiberg Island. As mentioned in our initial application the camp is the base for environmental research related to permafrost, climate change and hydrology. The camp is open intermittently and usually accommodates 4-6 persons. Please find attached English and Inuktitut and a copy of a Nunavut Planning Commission Conformity Review.

Sincerely yours,
