Hi Ida and Karén,

Thank yo for your helpful responses. I was in contact with Jonathan Savoy at the NPC, and he confirmed that an NPC conformity assessment is not required for this area (please refer the response copied below). How does this impact the NWB application for water use without a license?

Best,
Malcolm

Hi Malcolm,

Long Island, South of Sanikiluaq is outside the "Nunavut Settlement Area" where the NPC has jurisdiction.

Unfortunately, I'm not entirely sure what process you'll need to follow in that area, except that you don't need to submit anything to the NPC (Although Long Island is within the territory of Nunavut, it's not with the Nunavut Settlement Area where we have jurisdiction, but it is within the area covered by the Nunavik Inuit Land Claims Agreement in Quebec). If you're stuck on how to proceed, let me know and I can look into this further.

Thanks,

Jonathan Savoy, RPP, MCIP
